The Evolution of MidTown: Creating a Dynamic, Connected Neighborhood

Since 2008, MidTown has leveraged the investment in the HealthLine to stimulate over $180 million of completed real estate development projects and attract scores of non-profit organizations, businesses, and residents to locate and live in the district. Investment has accelerated over the last two years, with an additional eighteen proposed or in progress development projects totaling $140 million in further investment in MidTown.

MidTown Cleveland, Inc. is the community development organization charged with leveraging the diverse assets in MidTown to develop a dynamic neighborhood. In 2016, MidTown Cleveland, Inc. hired a new executive director, updated the organization’s code of regulations, and embarked on a comprehensive strategic planning process for the first time in ten years. Throughout the process, 400 people were engaged through one-on-one interviews, focus groups, community meetings, and an online survey to weigh in on the future work of the organization.

The result is a three-year strategic plan that focuses on connecting the MidTown community, creating a complete neighborhood, building the MidTown brand, and strengthening the organization so that MidTown will be an inclusive place for people to innovate, create, prosper, and live.
